WAVES OF NAZI BOMBERS BLAST PARIS

Dud Bomb Narrowly Misses U. S. Envoy

MISSILE FALLS 6 FEET FROM W. C. BULLITT

35 Reported Killed as Tons of Explosives Blast Buildings and Start Fires.

By The Associated Press

PARIS, June 3 — The German bombed the city of Paris today, wrecking many buildings, causing numerous fires, ripping up streets and killing and wounding scores of persons.

Reports still unverified said that 35 were killed, including one American. (The censor deleted 24 words apparently dealing with casualties).

One of those who narrowly escaped was William C. Bullitt, United States ambassador. A bomb fell six feet from him but failed to explode.

Bullitt, at the time, was about to lunch in a building which does not form a part of the embassy. The ambassador was the guest of Air Minister Laurent Eynac and his host were just entering the cherry in the reception room of the building in which they were to eat.

The German bombers came. The sirens sounded. The two remained at their places. Less than ten minutes later a dud bomb crashed the roof and fell within 6 feet of the ambassador.

Slum Dwellers Killed

Most of the casualties, it was indicated in first reports, were suffered in the outlying districts and in slum sections of the city. Several bombs fell on a particularly important building in Paris, but censorship, temporarily at least, banned transmission of the name or location.

The first official bulletin on the raid, published by the Havas agency, foreign news agency, said "several bombs fell in the interior of Paris, notably on private buildings and on several points in the Paris region."

The police, however, said casualties apparently small considering the tons of explosives dropped.

From the roof of the American embassy in the Place De La Concorde observers saw columns of smoke suddenly rising within the city. This continued for the best part of an hour.

During the protracted raid were flames where bombs had caused great fires.

Blasts Smash Windows

Windows of buildings along the route were smashed by the terrific concussions of falling bombs. Three apartment houses burst into flames after incendiary bombs fell on them.

An Associated Press correspondent who drove across Paris found one of the numerous ambulances reached the apartment house in a slum district on the outskirts as nurses and stretcher bearers were carrying out the dead and the wounded. And these were many.

Most gaping holes were dug into streets in some sections.

The anti aircraft guns, let loose on the Nazi invaders, set up the heaviest fire since the war started nine months ago. At times it reached the volume of cannonade.

The shrill blasts of the air raid alarm sent thousands of men, women and children scurrying in panic to air raid shelters.

The anti-aircraft guns sending a hail of shells were suddenly joined by machine-gun batteries on the city's rooftops.

Above the steady pounding of the guns and the rattle of the lighter and speedier machine-guns could be heard the deep throb of the German bombers and the drone of the French fighting machines which pursued them.

Bombs Follow Warning

Less than ten minutes elapsed from the time the first shriek of the sirens burst on the air before the first bombs were dropped on the city.

The explosions shook the windows in the offices of The Associated Press in the center of Paris.

Observers atop the American embassy at the Place De La Concorde said they could see quite plainly a considerable number of planes.

British Sergeant Describes Horror of B. E. F. Retreat

By The Associated Press

A SOUTHEAST COAST PORT IN ENGLAND, June 3—A British sergeant returning from Flanders today said that, so far as he could see, there were very few British troops left in Dunkerque when he departed.

The sergeant, who waited two days on the Dunkerque beaches before boarding a ship for home, said the scene there last night was illuminated by fires that made the night almost as bright as day.

He said German bombers, for some unexplainable reason, kept away from the town but continued to raid the troops on the beach as well as the various rescue ships.

This sergeant vouched for the story that the pilot of a German plane, unable to sink a large rowboat carrying 20 soldiers either with his bombs or with his machine guns, resorted to a shower of oil and gasoline.

This he then fired with tracer bullets, ringing the boat with flames.

"They didn't have a dog's chance," said the sergeant.

The latest arrivals from Dunkerque, though unshaved, dirty and worn-out, still were cracking jokes. Many did their best to shave and improve their appearance while they stood in the train corridors.

Scarcely a ship returns without visible traces of German attack, such as splinter scars and bullet holes.

How Red Cross nurses stayed at their posts while coworkers were killed or wounded by terrific air and artillery bombardment in the gradually closing death trap around Dunkerque was told by rescued members of the B.E.F.

The nurses, they said, spurned all advice to leave until the last of the B.E.F. wounded be withdrawn across the channel to safety.

"I cannot describe what we feel about those girls," said one wounded Tommy as he debarked. "Out on that dreadful beach, with German planes continually overhead and shells bursting all the time, the nurses have worked without stopping for days past.

"Angels is the only word you can use to describe them. I have seen some of them killed as they have gone about their work."

An officer said the nurses had been asked to return to England but that they declined.

2 MARION MEN DENY CINCINNATI HOLDUP

Whitt and Phillips Plead Not Guilty to Charges.

Ivan Phillips, 33, of Marion and Elmer Whitt, 30, formerly of Marion, pleaded innocent in common pleas court at Cincinnati today to charges involving the $30,110 holdup May 28 of the Avondale branch of the Central Trust Co., at Cincinnati, The Associated Press reported.

Rewards totaling $2,000 were given today to nine men who brought about their apprehension, it was reported from Cincinnati.

Identification of Phillips and Whitt as the bandit pair who robbed a Columbus bank of $5,000 last September was announced over the week-end as G-men continued their investigation of the men's activity.

Both men were still held today at Cincinnati where they were arrested last Tuesday following a $20,000 bank robbery there. They were indicted last week and are awaiting trial on state charges of armed robbery, entering a bank to commit a felony and auto theft and a federal charge of robbing a national bank.

Conviction on the charge of entering a bank to commit a felony alone carries a mandatory life sentence.

Linking of the pair to the Columbus robbery brought to seven the number of robberies in which the men have been either "positively" or tentatively identified, according to news accounts from Cincinnati. The loot in the robberies has been estimated by federal agents at more than $75,000.

Latest development in the investigation came when employes and customers of the Miller-Main office of the Ohio National bank in Columbus said they were "positive" Phillips and Whitt were the men who held them up in September. The men previously were identified in connection with the robbery of a bank at Clintonville, Columbus suburb, last fall and investigators also are seeking to link them to a third bank robbery in the vicinity of Columbus.

BILL PROVIDES WIDE POWERS

Measure Authorizes President To Call All Reserves for National Defense.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 3—Legislation was introduced in the house today to grant President Roosevelt emergency powers to "use any or all reserve components" of the army for national defense after congress has adjourned.

The measure was offered by Chairman May, Democrat of Kentucky, of the house military committee who said "reserve components" included the national guard, and that the powers would extend also to use of the retired personnel of the regular army.

Mr. Roosevelt asked last week for authority to call out the national guard to active duty if he found it necessary.

Virtually every happening on Capitol Hill today bore a relation to national defense moves or their tangents.

Senator Tydings (D-Md), telling the senate that "we must realize that we are very close to war," suggested that congress raise between $1,500,000,000 and $2,000,000,000 in defense tax revenue.

Administration tax figures so far, he said, are "no more than a drop in the bucket."

Tydings added that the wealthy should pay in proportion to their income, but asserted that "we must carry the tax base all the way down."

Senator White (R-Me), a member of the foreign relations committee, told reporters that "as a starter," the United States should send Germany's diplomatic envoys "back to Berlin."

"If the Italians come into the war," he added, "we ought to send them home too."

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) proposed "complete reorganization of the government's finances" and called the defense tax bill "a mustard plaster on a cancer."

Senator Capper (R-Kans.) expressed the opinion in a radio talk that the proposed 10 per cent increase in income taxes would not be sufficient. He predicted that eventually congress would have to lower the income tax exemptions.

While the ways and means committee pushed hearings on the tax measure in the hope of completing action this week, there were these other developments in the rearmament campaign:

1. The national mediation board of the C.I.O. was called into session with John L. Lewis today to determine its policy toward the defense program. Aides of Lewis said that the group probably would challenge the [illegible]

Installation of Two-Way Police Radio Equipment Nearing Completion Here

Mobile transmitters in cruisers are being installed here today, completing Marion's two-way police radio set-up.

One of the police department's two cruisers was equipped with a transmitter and microphone over the week-end and today radio men were adjusting this transmitter and completing installation of the equipment in the other cruiser. The installation work and adjustment of the transmitters, receivers and other apparatus was expected to be completed late today and will be ready for normal police work either tonight or tomorrow, Police Chief Marks reported.

The installation is being supervised by E. R. Peel of Chicago, Ill., district manager of the Transmitter Equipment Manufacturing Co., manufacturers of the radio equipment in use here. Mr. Peel arrived in Marion Saturday.

When placed in service, the mobile transmitters will complete the installation of police radio station WJJI which was started a year ago when one-way equipment was installed. Previously, it has been possible to send messages from the police station to the cruisers but with the new apparatus it also will be possible for officers in the cruisers to contact the police station by radio.

MOST STORES TO CLOSE AT NOON WEDNESDAYS

Wednesday afternoon closings, to be observed during June, July and August by a majority of the uptown retail stores, will begin this week, Louis E. Michel, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce reported. Store hours will be 8 a. m. to noon each Wednesday, with the exception of Wednesday, July 3, when they will be open the usual hours. Arrangements for the observance of half holidays through the summer months were made by the retail merchants sections of the Chamber of Commerce.

TRAFFIC PROPOSALS ON CITY COUNCIL PROGRAM

Legislation authorizing parking meters and parallel parking are the major items on the calendar for tonight's meeting of city council. Both measures were given one reading at last week's session and officials reported it is likely they will be considered for final action tonight. The meeting will be held at the city building.

FACES SHOOTING CHARGE

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, O., June 3—Matthew Flynn, 65, today faced a charge of shooting to kill his son-in-law, John Hemmerle, 47, as the younger man fought a brother, William Hemmerle, in a suburban Deer Park home. Marshal Richard Selz said John came to see his wife and son and threatened to "kill the whole family."

ROME CANCELS 1942 EXHIBITS

Nation Continues To Call Up Reservists, Nearing General Mobilization.

By The Associated Press

ROME, June 3—The Italian government today announced the indefinite postponement of the 1942 Rome exposition, which Premier Mussolini once referred to as proof that Italy was not planning to go to war.

The reason given for the postponement was that several nations had requested more time to prepare exhibits.

Italy's "behind the scenes" military mobilization proceeded, with the pink cards which call up reservists being delivered at additional homes every mail.

Residents of Turin, Italy's big industrial center close to the French frontier, were urged by the press today to depart for country districts as the nation quietly pressed general mobilization plans in preparation for war.

Zero Hour Near

Throughout Italy the population, convinced that the zero hour is not far distant, anxiously awaited word as to where and when the first blow would be struck in behalf of long-agitated "national aspirations."

Uncounted reservists found in their mail pink slips ordering them to report to their regiments and they hastily exchanged civilian garb for uniforms.

The individual notification system obviated the necessity of posting a general mobilization proclamation, but any doubt that the army is being put on a war time footing was dissolved by the authoritative Fascist editor Giornale Arabbia in his weekly [illegible]

300 Planes Drop 1,050 Bombs; 45 Killed, 149 Hurt

By The Associated Press

A roaring swarm of between 250 and 300 German warplanes bombed the Paris area today, killing 45, wounding 149, setting great fires and smashing buildings in an hour-long raid.

The high-flying Nazi raiders let go approximately 1,050 bombs. A "dud" struck within six feet of U. S. Ambassador William C. Bullitt.

Four schools in Paris and four others in the suburbs were hit, with casualties, it was officially announced.

An American was reported among those killed.

Simultaneously the British air ministry reported that formations of British bombers attack enemy airdromes and other military objectives in northwest Germany.

Berlin reported that the Paris attack signalled the opening phase of warfare such as France has never known.

While Paris dispatches said the bombs fell in the heart of the French capital as well as on the outskirts, Berlin reported that the German raid centered on the Paris airdrome and other military targets in the Paris region.

It was the first Paris air-raid alarm since May 21.

Streets were ripped up and littered with twisted steel, broken tiles, stones and rubble.

Great columns of black smoke rose from outlying districts, where the main force of the German attack apparently was felt. The crash of bombs was heard all over the capital, suddenly roused to alarm from the lethargy of a bright June day.

Anti aircraft batteries and machineguns on rooftops blazed away at the sky raiders, and French fighting planes roared into the air in droves to meet the invaders.

Red Cross and police cars dashed through the streets a few civilians scurried to air raid shelters. Explosions rattled windows in the heart of the city, but there was no immediate estimate of the damage. The all-clear signal was not given until an hour later.

Capture of 330,000 British and French prisoners in the bloody battle of Flanders was reported today by the German high command, which said Nazi troops closing in on the Allies' escape port of Dunkerque had seized the strongly-fortified city of Bergues, only five miles away.

The German communique said its count of Allied prisoners in the 25-day-old campaign was "preliminary," indicating that an even higher figure may be expected.

With clearing weather, the Nazi air fleet stung the Allies with renewed fury.

Hospital Ships Attacked

London reported two British hospital ships, the Worthing and Paris, were bombed and machine-gunned by German planes off the French coast. A 1-year-old boy was killed on one of the ships. The Paris was abandoned. The Worthing returned to port.

Neither ship, it was said, had B.E.F. wounded aboard.

Air-raid alarm sirens sounded in Paris at 1:20 p. m. (7:20 a. m. Marion time) as German bombers and reconnaissance squadrons droned over France again — apparently to impress Italy with the power of the Nazi air force to assist on a new southern front, if Italy enters the war.

A French military spokesman acknowledged that renewed furious attacks on Dunkerque by German land, sea and air forces was making evacuation of the remaining Allied soldiers there "increasingly difficult."

The Germans reported 39 Allied planes destroyed to 15 Nazi planes "missing."

"No Rest" Is Slogan

"No rest for the enemy" was the watchword in Berlin, where German military circles said Hitler was preparing another lightning thrust against the Allies.

No details were given of the new German air raids in France, where 38 persons were killed and 100 injured in week-end bombings.

Europe's conflict went into the tenth month today with both Germany and Italy, partners in a pact of steel, posing the question: "What next?"

Germany's devastating campaign through the lowlands and into northern France neared an end with a remnant of the Allied force there holding on to Dunkerque as the last exit for their rear-guard fighting off heavily increased Nazi pressure.

Nazi military circles hinted that Germany is preparing another blow for the Allies—but where and when are their secrets.

Italy's menacing position on the edge of the conflict—so far "non-belligerent" rather than neutral—has led to a steady increase in the Allied fleet gathered in the eastern Mediterranean near the Suez Canal.

This reinforcing has been pre-

Germans Claim Capture of 330,000 British, French Troops As Prisoners

By The Associated Press

BERLIN, June 3—The capture of 330,000 British and French prisoners "in the course of the big destructive battle of Artois and Flanders" was reported today by the German high command. His communique said this count was "preliminary."

Constantly increasing pressure on Dunkerque, the Allies' exit from the Flanders trap, was reported by the high command but it acknowledged that Nazi forces were being slowed down by Allied rearguard resistance.

Its communique indicated that northern France still was the main battlefield although Nazi armies prepared for a new smash in the west which informed quarters said might be launched anywhere between Norway and the Swiss border.

"No rest for the enemy" was the German watchword.

The high command admitted that the Allied rearguard still [illegible]

NOW is the TIME to MODERNIZE-REMODEL-BUILD your own HOME

Good Designing Rated As Important Factor in Marketability of Homes

Since simplicity, proportion, and character are architectural qualities of permanent appeal, federal housing administration officials urge home planners to regard these features as the logical approach to good home design.

Where established traditions are violated by uncompromising builders with the result that nonconformity with neighborhood patterns is marked, the marketability of a home is said to suffer.

Home builders who finance their dwellings under the insured-mortgage system of the federal housing administration are not restricted as to what architectural type may be selected, according to Administrator Stewart McDonald, but the FHA is concerned with the relative excellence or poorness of the design chosen.

Discussing the attitude of the administration toward the architectural styles of the homes offered as security for insured mortgages, Mr. McDonald declared that designs considered freakish or those characterized as hybrids are given a "penalized rating" by FHA representatives.

Rating Basis

"To receive good ratings," he said, "all design motifs should be in good taste, have a utility basis, or add structural value and attractiveness to the general scheme. An elaborate use of motif and detail, the inclusion of an unnecessary variety of materials, and straining for the picturesque cannot increase the FHA rating.

"The use of false effects of roofing, false half-timber work, or the unusual handling or combination of materials, or materials in appropriately used generally affect the architectural rating adversely."

Seven questions which may aid the prospective home owner in determining the soundness of an anticipated home design were listed as follows:

Do the elevations express frankly the plan contained therein, or is the design of a freakish nature aimed at the picturesque?

In whatever style the building has been designed, does it express to a reasonable degree refinement and proper interpretation of that style, or does the design indulge in the use of superfluous ornament or an improper use of materials as they relate to each other?

Are the window and door openings arranged to result in a pleasing effect?

Are room proportions pleasing? Are interior details so designed as to be appropriate and attractive?

Is the entire ensemble, including the arrangement of buildings and the plot plan, attractive?

Do the accessory buildings tie in to the composition of the entire project?

Has the entire project a pleasing appeal to the typical potential purchaser?

NEW HARDENING PROCESS FOUND FOR CONCRETE

May Help Keep Basements Of Homes Dry.

The introduction of a "case-hardening" concrete process in residential construction may help keep basements dry and improve the appearance of homes, according to those responsible for developing the process.

Developed in cooperation with the U. S. bureau of reclamation for use on western dams, one of the first uses of the new construction method will be in "case-hardening" basement walls for greater resistance to water passage.

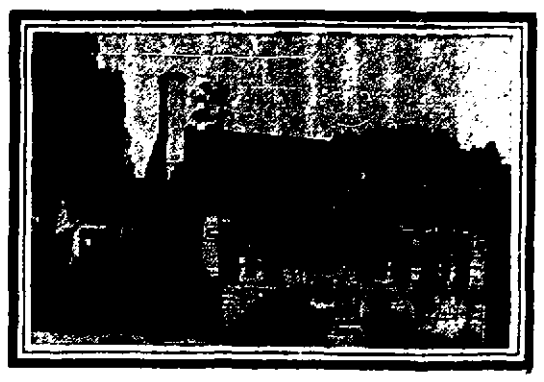
Through the use of absorptive form lining, the surface of the concrete is "case-hardened" by the removal of trapped air and excess water. Unsightly pits which have heretofore been virtually unavoidable on formed concrete.

The new method is said not only to improve the appearance of homes but also to increase resistance to abrasion, weathering, and chemical attack.

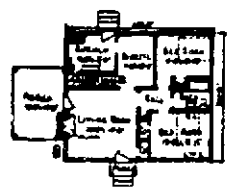
PUTTY CRACKS

To fill cracks in old putty that is not in poor enough condition to justify replacement, apply paint with a stiff brush, so that it will be forced into the cracks, using paint a little thicker than usual.

English Design Bungalow



The low, harmonious lines of this home are accentuated in beauty by the delightful texture treatment with brick, shingle and siding. Its charming exterior is matched in beauty and comfort by the interior that is planned along distinctly modern ideas of arrangement and convenience. The rooms are notably large for a house of this size. This is accomplished by utilizing every inch of space. It is of interest to the housewife to note the plentitude of closet space even without reckoning on the ample storage space in the attic. This house will fit on a lot as narrow as 33 feet but of course, it would be desirable to have a 50-foot lot to allow plenty of space and privacy.



GARDEN CLINIC

By Victor H. Ries

Extension Floriculturist
Ohio State University

Question: The dealer from whom I bought pansies was positive they should be planted in a completely shaded spot, while my garden catalogue states a sunny situation will do. Will you please tell me which is right?

Answer: It is true that pansies usually will have a longer period of bloom if they do not have full sun. However, if the shade is due to trees or large shrubs, the drying of the soil by their roots may counteract the reduced amount of sunlight. However, you will find they will grow and bloom perfectly satisfactorily in full sunlight but are more likely to burn out as hot weather approaches.

Question: Will you please inform me if it is possible for me to make tulips multiply; that is, make them produce more bulbs? When I dig my tulip bulbs up at the end of the spring season or after leaving them in the ground for a year or more, the large bulb has shrunk to the size of a marble with some smaller ones attached to the roots. How do the professional tulip breeders manage to get such large bulbs? I always buy the best I can get.

Answer: Tulip bulbs are grown in climates more congenial and in soils better adapted to their growth than we have in most of our gardens. That is why in the past they were largely grown in Holland although now they are being grown in some parts of Michigan and in Washington and Oregon. By taking your smaller bulbs and planting them separately you may be able to get them to develop into blooming size. Do not expect, however, to get as large bulbs as those you originally purchased.

Q. The Lombardy poplars that were planted along the back of our lot seven or eight years ago are dying one by one. Is there any other tree of a similar growth that we could plant in place of them?

A. You will find that the Bolleana poplar, which is an upright variety of the silver poplar, usually is entirely free from oyster shell scale and seldom if ever blights. The Lombardy poplar is susceptible both to the scale and to blight.

HOME INSULATION IS CENTURY-OLD PROCESS

Contrary to widespread belief, home insulation is not new.

Actually, mineral wool, the oldest form of modern home insulation, was produced in Wales, England, a century ago.

Mineral wool was brought to the United States in 1867, where it was even then used to protect houses against Winter cold and summer heat.

A home in Salem, Va., was insulated with mineral wool 58 years ago, and today the original insulation is still in perfect condition.

Building Quiz

Q. Is it good construction practice for wood joists or girders to enter masonry walls below grade?

A. If possible, this should be avoided. However, if this condition is necessary, the wood members should be treated with an effective wood preservation before installation. Provide a one-inch air space for ventilation on each side of each structural member built into masonry walls above or below grade.

Q. What is the best method of repainting the wire cloth in my screens? What kind of paint should I use?

A. In repainting old wire cloth, it will be necessary to first scrub the screen with a brush, using soap and warm water. Rinse with clean water and allow the screen cloth to dry thoroughly. Then apply one coat of screen enamel, using only a little enamel on the brush at a time. Paint the screen from one side, using up-and-down brush strokes, from right to left, and diagonally. Go over the other side of the screen with a dry brush in the same manner.

Q. In residential construction, what are the basic principles involving protection against subterranean termites?

A. These principles deal with good practice in the use of wood, good practice in the construction of masonry and concrete, the provision of mechanical barriers to prevent the passage of termites from soil to wood, and the treating of wood to make it toxic or repellent and unpalatable to insects.

MAIN FEATURES LISTED FOR BATHROOM PLANS

A few of the main objectives to be sought in fitting up either a new or old bathroom are pointed out by builders:

The room should have ample bathing facilities suitable for every member of the family.

The fixtures, regardless of design or color, should be of good make and of lasting quality.

All fittings should be of material which is easily cleaned so that they may be kept bright and attractive at all times.

Floors and walls should be durable as well as washable.

The room should be furnished with necessary cabinets and other similar convenient accessories.

Ventilation and day lighting should both be of high efficiency.

CHAPTER 18

Memory of Lenore

H ...ured from an unsuc... ...shing expedition, Jan ...mood to find Derek ...auctioning off her paintings.

Jan charged through her elbows working to good advantage, and confronted Derek, seeing behind him all twelve of her precious canvases.

Derek was staging an exhibition a la Greenwich Village.

Jan dropped her fishing pole and grabbed for as many canvases as she could carry into the house she marched with them, her cheeks flaming with fury.

"I guess the show is over folks," Derek shouted and herded his passengers back to the trim car. He would, he reflected dourly, not only get the devil for being off the time schedule and maybe lose his job but Jan from the look in those flashing blue eyes of hers, would not only help but throw coals of fire on his head.

I don't know where I got the idea," he tried to explain to her later. I was rolling along and all at once I thought of the brilliant idea of staging an exhibition in the front yard. I figured I could bring all my passengers for customers and try to raise some money for you."

You're a madman," she raged at him, scooping her hair behind her ears with shaking fingers. "Can't you mind your own business? They are my paintings! The least you could have done was ask me. Nobody bought anything! I knew no one would want them. All you did was humiliate me and make me a laughing stock. Oh I—I hate you!"

"Now listen, Jan," he pleaded.

"I won't listen." She stamped her foot. "And I won't forgive you. It was mean and contemptible of you." And she fled to her room and locked the door.

This Eternal Anxiety

Derek ambled restlessly through the house wondering how he could make amends to Jan. It had he sighed, seemed a good plan at the time of execution. In fairness he tried to put himself in her place. What if she had invited a lot of strangers into the house and played his original compositions for them on the piano then offered to sell them cheap. He would have felt like choking her.

All of this present life was so new and so strange to him. This eternal anxiety over bills and earning money, his hoarding and counting and distributing of pennies. He had never in all his life known need of money. At birth his father had established a large trust fund for him, the income from which was more than satisfied all of his needs at the age of twenty one he had inherited more than five millions from the estate of his grandmother. He had taken the possession of money for granted just as the Merrines took the lack of possession of it for granted. No poverty had never haunted nor bedevilled him but wealth did. He'd come to abhor the great riches because they effectively shut him off from the things he wanted most.

All during adolescence he had yearned for normality, for a home for roots. Children he thought, do not want to be different to be set apart from their fellows. He wanted to say to his school friends, "Come along to my place for vacation. Mother and Dad like my friends, too. They'll see to it we have a jolly time."

He had learned, and he in forming was a bitter ruthless process that he could not purchase love, a family or companionship as a composer. But he could have bought Lenore Page. Would love be right he... But un... willingly [illegible] had not intervened.

The walls of this shabby weather beaten old house seemed to close in about him. In growing dusk from the chair where he slumped he saw only the great solid outline of Jans piano. His own grand piano had been much like this—the one he kept in his Manhattan apartment.

His penthouse apartment atop one of the finest of modern apartment houses on Sutton Place in New York City was crowded with colorful group of names prominent in society, stage, sports and films. Lenore Page exquisite in a Lanvin creation of black velvet wearing the princess diamonds he had given her played hostess, her sleek platinum head turned graciously to his and that celebrity her great dark eyes wide with interest. Her small boneless hands with sharp blood-colored nails keeping things smooth. Lenore beautiful as Helen of Troy, clever as Delilah!

He supposed, thinking back that he had drunk too much champagne with dinner. Suddenly he wanted to be more than just a fabulously rich young man to these people. He wanted to play for them, wanted them to know that he, too, had talent, that he, too, could do something besides spend money.

The orchestra on the terrace stopped playing when he spoke to them. People paused, wondering in the middle of a dance number. Lenore seeing him cross the great room toward the piano hurried up to him. Her eyes questioned.

"I'm going to play my new concerto for them, Lenore."

"No Mood To Listen"

She slipped her arm through his detaining him. "Not now, Ricky" she said sharply. "They are in no mood to listen to you. They've been drinking for hours dear and Gordon the music critic is here. Please Ricky don't do this."

He freed himself and went on. Lenore held up her hands. Be quiet everyone! Mine host will play for you.

He settled at the piano, his narrow sensitive fingers bring his creation to life. The silence in the room held a few moments then some girl gaily intoxicated called loudly. "Swing it Ricky. This is no funeral."

Someone laughed. Talk began, swelled. He and his music were forgotten.

Somehow he got away from the piano, brushed past Gordon who sympathized. "It's a damned shame, Knowles!" escaped Lenore found a chair in a dim recess of the terrace. A long while he sat alone nursing his wound. A couple passed him not seeing him, stopped a few feet away to lean against the white brick parapet of the terrace.

Lenore's voice annoyed, petulant came to him. "How can he be such an egotistical fool Ronnie? He fancies himself a Paderewski. I've had to sit hours listening to him, pretending interest, dying of boredom. When I think of what my married life will be I could scream."

The man said, drawing her into his arms. "A form of mental cruelty, dearest, which might serve as grounds for divorce — and alimony. Don't weaken honey. Neither of us has a penny. Anyhow, I'm being very generous, I think, running the risk of losing you. After all the chap is terribly good looking even if he is a bit cracked about music. You might like being married to him. I hear yachts and diamonds and millions aren't hard to take."

Foolish boy, she chided and drew his mouth down to hers while the man in the shadows watched the blending of silhouettes against a background of star studded sky flushed red by Neon.

Violence rose up in him, choking him. He would have liked to toss both Lenore and Ronnie H... [illegible] parapet and watch their bodies hit the pavement fifty stories below.

But he waited until his guests had gone before dealing with Lenore. He took her hand and led her out on the terrace.

Darling, she laughed and the bright hard sound of it hurt his ears. I'm so dreadfully sorry about tonight's fiasco. You should never have tried playing for them dear. It was neither the time nor place. Ricky what ails you? Your eyes—don't look at me that way.

Without speaking he unclasped her diamond necklace and dropped it into his coat pocket reached for her hands. She stepped back frightened.

What are you doing? Derek in heavens name what's wrong with you? Have you lost your mind? You stare at me as if I were a—a snake."

"Not a snake," he corrected evenly. "A snake gives warning before it strikes. Gripping her wrists he jerked off the diamond bracelet, then tore the diamond engagement ring from her finger.

Her fragile angelic face contorted with rage and fear. "Derek are you mad? What have I done?"

"Killed me," he said. "You're free now to take your Ronnie if he'll have you without my diamonds and my money! And you'll never have to listen to me play again."

And so he had not bought Lenore Page. Instead in early morning he boarded a plane for the west coast. For a time he tried to fill the hollowness inside of him with liquor. It hadn't worked. He had sailed and swum and danced with pretty girls while all of the time he still pushed violently inside of him.

Then the grey idea had come to him as he lay on the sand before his rented house at Malibu Beach. There's nothing left! I want to buy, he reasoned. Death might be a rare and amusing adventure and if not—so what?

But it so happened a slip of a girl interfered.

TIGERS NARROW GAP AS TRIBE SPLITS PAIR; YANKEES W

Lyons, Sunday Pitcher, Hurls Shutout for Sox; Reds Split Pair.

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The best Sunday pitcher in the baseball business right now is that grizzly veteran of the Chicago White Sox, Ted Lyons who has been with the same club for 17 years.

Born in 1900, the same year as Lefty Grove Lyons came to the American league direct from the campus of Baylor university in 1923 two years before Grove, and still is going strong.

TED LYONS

In fact he is the strongest gear in the Sox's well - worn driveshaft today with four victories and two defeats. Chicago has played nine games in the last seven days and won three. Of these Lyons won two.

This spring he has pitched every Sunday except one that it rained and he showed up at Fenway Park Boston yesterday on schedule. The result was a 6-0 shutout of the league-leading Red Sox on six hits. It was his 225th major league triumph.

The Red Sox recovered from this masterful going over sufficiently to beat out Chicago 10-8 in the second game with Jimmie Foxx notching his 13th home run.

The fact that the Cleveland Indians also divided a double bill with the Philadelphia Athletics left the American league squabble in status quo. Cleveland won 7-2 then lost 12-6.

Cut Reds Lead

In the National league the Brooklyn Dodgers whacked a game off the margin separating them and the pace-making Cincinnati Reds by squeezing two one-run decisions out of the Chicago Cubs 3-2 and 2-1.

The Reds divided two games with the Boston Bees winning the first game 11-1. Boston won the second 2-0.

Pittsburgh edged out the New York Giants 2-1 in the eighth inning after Bob Klinger and Hal Schumacher each had pitched seven runless frames but New York bounced back to take the second game 7-3.

At St Louis two pitchers also chalked up their first wins of the season. Boom-Boom Beck of the Phillies stopped the Cards 4-2 on seven hits and Bob Bowman gave the same amount in winning for St Louis 9-2. John Mize hit his 13th and 14th home runs in the second game.

The world champion Yankees continued their upward surge at the expense of the St Louis Browns with two triumphs 13-4 and 11-1. Marius Russo and Marvin Breuer gave two well pitched games.

Detroit took a single game from the Washington Senators 8-6. Hank Greenberg hit a two run homer in the first.

More than 200,000 fans turned out for the games in eight cities.

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA June 3—The Cleveland Indians felt hot Tiger breath on their necks today as they aimed their heavy-hitting wa clubs at evening up their four-game series with Philadelphia Athletics.

The Detroit Bengals crept up to within one game of the Tribe as the Indians split a Sunday double header here Cleveland remained two games behind the league leading Boston Red Sox.

More than 35,000 fans saw Bob Feller win his eighth victory in the first game 7 to 2. But the Philadelphians walked all over a parade of second-string pitchers to take the second game 12 to 6.

Feller allowed eight hits. He was aided by Hal Trosky's 13th home run of the season and Lou Boudreau's third homer.

The Indian clubs kept swinging for 14 hits in the second game. The Tribe jumped on John Babich for four runs in the first three innings but the Athletics knocked out Mike Naymick with a three-run blast in the fourth.

Johnny Humphries and Bill Zuber went the route way in a seven-run Philadelphia romp in the seventh inning. Joe Dobson had to finish up despite five innings of work the preceding day.

Catcher Rollie Hemsley took a beating being knocked out by a foul tip hit on the head with a bat and triggered by another foul.

Al Milnar was scheduled to try for his seventh pitching victory for the Indians today opposed by Chubby Dean who has two decisions over the New York Yankees to his credit.

SPRINTER WINS, THEN FINDS LEG IS BROKEN

Fred Leslie 18 year old Cleveland Lincoln track star is recovering from a broken leg but he won three races before he discovered that anything was wrong. He won mile and half mile races for Lincoln in a dual meet with Canton McKinley. Later he ran in the last lap of a four-mile relay and won but in a two-mile relay he had to stop before the race was over because of a severe pain in his leg. Fred thought it was a slight bruise but X rays showed that the fibula in his leg was fractured five inches above the ankle. He said he didn't have any idea how it happened.

Peter Astra, Hambletonian Winner, To Be Among Harness Stars Coming Here For Short Ship Races

This is the third and last of a series of articles written by Edwin T Keller Cincinnati race starter in connection with the Short Ship harness races to be held here June 11-14.

By EDWIN T KELLER

Frank Foster race secretary of the Short Ship circuit here June 11-14 recently received a particularly gratifying bit of news. Writing from training headquarters at Syracuse N Y the famous Grand Circuit driving ace Vic Fleming informed Secretary Foster that he will make his first appearance of the 1940 campaign here in Marion.

Fleming one of the most popular drivers ever to sit in a sulky will have a strong division of his stable at Marion. The two pacing stars of his stable The Widower 1 59½ and Dusty Hanover 2 00¾ have been entered in the $1 000 free for all pacing stake. He plans to start one and possibly both when the night of the big race rolls around.

Dusty Hanover is a new member in the Fleming stable. The Milne-owned stallion has been a star for the past two years over New England tracks where he has defeated all the top pacers. His top performance last year was at Augusta Me when he paced the half mile track in 2 01¼.

To Make Debut Here

Another top stable due to make its 1940 debut here is the Henry Warwick stable of Cleveland. The stable has put in the spring training session at Syracuse N Y and is slated for racing down the Grand Circuit following the Marion meeting. The stable has two of the top favorites for the $500 13 class pacing stake feature event of the opening night of racing in John Dillard 3 2 02 and Johnnie Hal, 4 2 06. Johnnie Hal was one of the big winners in 1940 victorious in nine of his 13 races. Both the Fleming and Warwick stables will ship west from Syracuse during the first week in June.

Present plans call for the 1939 Hambletonian Stake winner Peter Astra 3 2 02¼ the Ohio colt and winner of the coveted $40 000 race at Goshen N Y last summer to make his first start over the local track. Trainer Doc Parshall has entered the undefeated champion of 1939 in the $1 000 free-for-all trot and the four-year old has been training so nicely to date that Parshall believes he'll be ready for his first race by the time the Short Ship circuit clans reach Marion. This will be particularly pleasing news to all race fans of central Ohio for the great colt winner of all of his nine races last year made but one start in his home state last year that being his first at Toledo O before he had won national honors. In two seasons of racing to date the colt has won $50 000 in purses more than any trotter now at the races.

Many Stars Entered

Not all the stars to be seen in action at Marion are to be found in the two free-for-all races. In the 13 class pace are to be found such pacing favorites as Ryan Grattan 2 09¼ the Canadian champion of 1939 winner of 14 of his 17 races Passport 4 2 03 the Indiana flash John Dillard 2 02 one of the top three year old pacers of 1939 Peter Patch 2 03 the locally owned crack Fellomite, 2 03¼ Eddie W 2 04¾ Harry Dewey 2 04¾ from the Vic Fleming stable and Betty Worthy 2 04. This race attracted an entry of 19. Top entry in the nine stakes to feature the four nights of racing was the 23 pace which drew 31 candidates a record for the circuit meetings for 1940.

Some pretty shifty trotters are to be found in the 16 trotting stake. Among the 17 entered are Nate Hanover p 1 59 1 2 02½ the new champion double-gaited gelding from the Vic Fleming stable Bostonian 3 2 04 another of the Fleming stars John Win 2 05 one of the many top performers that Doc Parshall will have at the meeting Weetamoe 4 2 07¼ a good winner last year for the popular Columbus trainer Harry Short and Carleton 2 04¾ a good performer in any company.

While stables from a distance figure prominently in this year's meeting the Ohio's own are going to be pretty much in the limelight. The leading Buckeye stables to be seen in action here include those of trainers Harry Short and Al Clark of Columbus Bob Plasico and Earl Roush of Canton Hump Morrison of Bucyrus Gabe Cartnal of Newark Wayne Smart of Delaware Roy Line of Toledo H M Parshall of Urbana Jess Brinkerhoff of Wooster and Doc McMillen of London. Among the top drivers from a distance are Sep Palin trainer of the mighty Greyhound 1 55¼ of Indianapolis Clint Hodgins and Vic Fleming of Syracuse N Y Harry Fitzpatrick of Springfield Ill Lee Smith of Charlotte N C Charley Lacey of Butler Pa Darell Maher of Washington Pa Floyd Milton of New Hamburg Ont Morely McDonald of Detroit Mich Houston Stone of DuQuoin Ill and Eddie Cobb of Genesee Pa.

A C BOOKS GAME

A game between the Colored A C's of Marion and the Sahara Dry club of Akron has been scheduled for Sunday at Lincoln park.

REDS PITCHING ACES STINGY TO BATTERS

One of Them is Due for No-Hitter Soon.

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI June 3 — Write this on the wall somewhere (high so the little woman won't see it).

One of these days soon maybe some pitcher for the Cincinnati Reds is going to throw himself a no hitter. It in the cards and maybe it'll be the St Louis Cards.

The argument.

From Sunday to Sunday Manager Bill McKechnie's pitchers have to their credit one one-hitter one three hitter three four hitters one five hitter four ten games in eight days that is a bowing and if you think the opposition likes it ask some sluggers like Joe Medwick and Johnny Mize of the Cards Arky Vaughan of Pittsburgh and Mar West of Boston.

Another point worth noting is how close some of the boys have come to the glory games. In taking his five hit ninth straight win yesterday 11 to 1 unbeaten Bucky Walters held the Boston Bees hitless until one man was out in the sixth.

The way the Reds were treating the ball Walters had an easy time of it. Before Aloysius Piechota Casey Stengel's starter had had his warm up throws he was out of the game. Three singles Ernie Lombardi's double and the first of Johnny Rizzo's two homers produced five runs.

SIGNS AS COACH

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH June 3 — Joe Thomas Dayton (O) university quarterback who graduates this month has been named head athletic coach at Boys Catholic High school north side.

Night baseball in Manhattan was a flop—only 28 000 odd out. The grapevine says one of the conditions of the Joe Gould Mike Jacobs settlement was that Gould shortly will go into the 20th century as matchmaker. (We reported that weeks ago). Frankie Corsetti seems definitely on his way out as a Yankee.

The Yanks Are Coming

I think before the summer's done McCarthy's gang to have his fun
And come July we'll hear a humming
And wake to find the Yankees coming.
—William Meyer New Orleans.

Did You Know That

Bucky Walters always eats liver and bacon for breakfast on the day he pitches. Lou Boudreau the Cleveland shortstop is in demand as a basketball official but the club has offered him considerably more than he'll make to stay off the hardwood courts. Gamblers along the great white way have raised the Boston Red Sox to a parity with the Yankees—but are overlooking Cleveland.

WOMEN RASSLERS AND TEAM FIGHT SCHEDULED

Team wrestling and the return of feminine gladiators are the co features of tonight's mat show at the Mar on Steam Shovel gymnasium. Hawkins Walter (Sneeze) Achu has been substituted for Buzz Jones in the gang melee. He will pair with Oregon McDonald the west coast roughie to meet George Becker and Frankie Talaber.

Gladys (Killem) Gillem of Birmingham Ala plays a return engagement here tonight. She comes back for a special one hour match with Mildred Burke Kansas City's claimant to the feminine grappling crown. The women will have the honor of starting the show at 8:30.

GOLFERS GET FIRST BREAK FROM WEATHER

Country Club and Mar-O-Del Courses Busy Over Week-End.

Old Sol beamed on Marion golfers yesterday for the first time in more than a week as they toured the Country club and Mar-O-Del courses. Qualifying scores were turned in at the Country club for the June Handicap tournament with the headline set for June 9. The ringer tournament which has been in session for the past few weeks finished yesterday in a two-way tie.

Paced by club pro, Bill Schimmel, who had a 79, the Country club golfers found the going a little soggy. Herb Petrich and Bob Owens turned in the low scores for the members with 83's. It was the first day out for a number of the members especially the women.

At Mar-O-Del, Bud Stoll shot a 38 to lower his total in the ringer tournament to 63, and to tie with Eddie Dutt. It has not been decided whether both should be awarded first place or the tournament should be allowed to run another week. Howard Henry took second place, as things stand now, with a 65. Walter MacConnell's 67 was good enough for third.

Mrs. Rife and Mrs. Fogle led the women at the Mar-O-Del with 87's.

MERCHANTS LOSE FIRST GAME OF NEW SEASON

In a twin bill at Upper Sandusky yesterday the Marion Merchants softball team defeated the Benton Ohio Tiger club 2-1, after losing their first game of the season to the Hudson Insurance nine 1-0 in the first game. Needs won the game for Hudson when he hit a home run in the fourth. In the nightcap Marion jumped on the Tiger team to win their eighth game of the season.

Score by innings and batteries follows:

Marion Merchants	000 000 0—0	5 0
Hudson Insurance	000 100 *—1	3 0

Millisor and Putman; Larick and Reber.

Benton	100 000 0—1	1 0
Marion	000 200 *—2	7 3

Holman and Haskett; Everly and Harper.

Brokers Move Warily as Losses of 1 to 2 Points Are Recorded.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 3—Traders awaiting the next European war shift moved warily in today's stock market. Near the fourth hour losses of 1 to 2 points were well distributed.

Bullish sentiment was chilled a bit by bulletins telling of the bombing of Paris. At the same time relative lightness of selling was encouraging.

Bonds and commodities were mixed. Free sterling and the French franc dipped in terms of the dollar.

Attracting mild support were Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, American Smelting, Du Pont, Owens-Illinois, Freeport Sulphur, Pennsylvania and Great Northern.

Brightening the business picture was word that shipments of Lake Superior iron ore from the United States and Canada upper lake ports in May were the largest for any similar months since 1937.

Boston Wool

By The Associated Press

BOSTON June 3—Sentiment in the Boston wool market showed an improvement this week even though inquiries had not developed into actual business. Asking prices tended firmer than last week. Average bright country packed three-eighths and one quarter blood fleece wools were quoted mostly at 36-37 cents in the grease delivered to users. Good French combing lengths fine western wools were quoted at 78-80 cents scoured basis for moderate quantities of territory or Texas wools, but the bulk of the sizeable offerings were held at prices above 80 cents.

CORN STRONGER, BUT WHEAT PRICE FALLS

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO June 3—Buying believed to have originated within industries and elevator interests lifted corn prices more than a cent a bushel at times today but the wheat market was slightly lower following the action of securities and due to prospects that trade estimates of domestic production this year will be revised upward.

Milling interests reported flour business had diminished materially due to the fact that much forward buying was done last month.

Corn closed 1 1/16 cents higher than Saturday, July 63¾, September 61½. Wheat rallied in final trading and finished ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, July 82½ 82, September 80 9/16. Oats were unchanged to ⅛ off.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

A New Scheme to Smash Noel's and Mary's Happiness

WITH A thank you thrown over my shoulder at Dicky I scurried away. But I did not need his tip as I went stealthily down the stairs and made my way to my little study off the library where I had permitted Noel to conceal himself and listen to Mary's triumph at the rehearsal. I had no desire to have either his wife or his father see him until I reduced him to reason.

I heard Lillian's voice and that of Philip Veritzen in animated colloquy in the library as I passed the door, and felt reasonably safe in going on to my little study. I did not dare to knock for fear of being overheard, but when, with infinite caution, I pushed aside the door and entered, I found Noel ranging up and down the room as if he were a caged animal, knocking against chairs and tables, patently with no thought that he could easily be overheard.

I closed the door after me noiselessly, then went to him, and clutched his arm with my right hand while the fingers of my left were pressed against my lips.

"Are you insane?" I whispered. "Your [illegible] will [illegible] room. You [illegible] you [illegible]

a trunk room the only place in the house where I knew we would be free from interruption. My father's guards were stationed in the attic and every other room in the house was either occupied or as was the case with the one which Harry and Dicky were [illegible] was within hearing of the library where Lillian was holding Philip Veritzen in conversation.

I shut the door behind us, sat down on one trunk and motioned Noel to another.

"Now what is troubling you?" I asked, trying to make my voice sound as though he were being unduly concerned. "Didn't you see Mary's glorious triumph, and hear your father's surprise?"

"Mary was wonderful, wasn't she?" he said, his face and voice suddenly enthusiastic. Then they were flat again.

"My father saved his face just in time before you were going to spring that surprise rendition on him," he said. "But you know as well as I do that his reason for planning to deprive Mary of the role was because he thought, crazily enough, that if he could crush her that way, she'd take her resentment out on me, and those he'd have parted us, just as he planned to do ever since we were married."

"Quite simple," I remarked [illegible] "Your [illegible] that [illegible] you [illegible] about [illegible] to have us [illegible] that. He knows human nature well enough to be sure that given your temperament and Mary's an injustice to her like that would draw you closer together instead of separating you. No, we must look in some other direction for his motive in training her in that stilted lifeless rendition."

"I'm not thinking about that, now," Noel said sullenly. "It's this new thing he's planning."

"What new thing?" I asked, injecting a purposeful, patient note into my voice.

"Did you see how that leading man was looking at Mary?" Noel exploded, and did you see my father watching him and fairly gloating over it?"

The Stars Say—

For Tuesday, June 4

Unusual and probably perplexing and deepseated problems may come to the surface on this day, judging by the lunar and mutual aspects. While there may be surprising and sudden developments, with some sort of devastating or disruptive movement in attacking new ventures of moment, yet such effort attaches itself to large corporations, political or fraternal bodies, or other hidden sources of subtle influence if to be successfully managed. Writings or documents require due consideration, as peculiar quirks are seen.

Those whose birthday it is, may anticipate a year of surprises and quite unforseen adventures, especially in new realism or circumstances. In disturbance and doubt it would be well to confer with political, fraternal or other behind the scenes influences for cooperation and success. Be shrewd and wary with writings or documents, which hold peculiar pitfalls or distortions. In romantic or emotional affiliations there should be also pleasant surprises. A child born on this day may be shrewd and profound, with much subtlety and craft, despite its good intentions. It may succeed by its originality and creative ability in connection with large corporations or political bodies.

Daily Pattern for Home Use

By ANNE ADAMS

SMART FROCK WITH HOODED CAPE

PATTERN 4477

A complete summer-day ensemble is offered in Pattern 4477. It's an Anne Adams creation that includes a spirited dress PLUS a hooded cape. The frock gives that "span-of-the-hand" look at the waist with its wide, front-pointed girdle. Cool, open sleeveletter, made in one easy piece with the soft bodice, have a broad-shouldered effect. Lace edging and a fresh flower are pretty touches. To top off your outfit dashingly, make the matching or contrasting cape. The easy-to-make hood is optional, but so enchanting, so flattering . . . so useful for "driving with the top down," that you'll love it, especially if you line it with the fabric of the frock.

Pattern 4477 is available in misses' sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Size 16, dress, takes 3 yards 39 inch fabric and 2⅞ yards lace edging.

Send fifteen cents (15c) in coins for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly size, name, address and style number.

Cut a smart figure in the summer fashion picture. Make your new wardrobe from the original designs in the Anne Adams Pattern Book. A colorful forecast of summer 1940, it includes styles for country and city dweller, "pocket-edition" youngster and "forty-plus" matron. There are gay sport clothes, dance frocks, cool prints and cottons for vacations by land . . . by sea . . . by air. Of course the summer bride has not been forgotten. Send today. Book fifteen cents. Pattern fifteen cents. Book and pattern together, twenty-five cents.

Send your order to The Marion Star, Pattern Department, 243 West 17th St., New York, N. Y.
